Science	History	Geography
Crush the rock! This week we'd like you to invent a device for turning rock into powder. NASA scientists had to do this so rocks on Mars could be tested by the Mars rover! With an adult, use things you have at home to create a machine that will crush a biscuit or cracker into crumbs that can pass through a sieve. Think about: - What sort of movement might break up the 'rock'? - What could you change to break up the 'rock' quicker? - What method do you think will break the 'rock' into the smallest pieces? - How can your machine be designed to make sure the sample is not lost? You will need: a sieve, household objects for rock destruction (e.g. chopping boards, rolling pins, pestle and mortars, hand whisks, bricks, hammers, graters) & something to collect the 'dust'. Email a photo or video of your machine in action!	Suring lockdown you've investigated Hadrian's Wall and drawn maps of it too. This week you're also looking at volcanoes and rocks, so your history task is a mixture of those different topics! Pompeii! We'd like you to write a short explanation of what happened on 24th August AD79. You can do it as a simple paragraph, as a timeline or as a fact sheet. You can use this link as a start point: https://www.dkfindout.com/uk/history/ancient-rome/pompeii/ ...but there are lots of resources available about Pompeii. If anyone you know has been to visit Pompeii (or Herculaneum), you should definitely talk to them and ask for some of their photos!	Volcanoes! Check out this video of a volcano erupting in April this year... https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=6QMXWKErNvs Volcanoes come in lots of different shapes and forms. Use this link on the BBC to find out more about volcanoes. There are two short videos and then two tasks: https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/zxwj2p What we'd really like is for you to email us your own diagram that shows how a volcano works. We'll post the winning diagrams on the school website!
Art / Design & Technology	PSHE	PE
Engineering Challenge! For D&T, we'd like you to investigate how to make structures stronger. First use the information on this link: https://www.bbc.co.uk/bitesize/articles/z7gybdm Then complete one of these: https://learning.sciencemuseumgroup.org.uk/resources/spaghetti-structures/ Tricky: https://learning.sciencemuseumgroup.org.uk/resources/build-a-dome/	As it's just been Father's Day on Sunday, we'd like you to think of a well-known man and think about the qualities that make him a good role model for boys and other men. He could be alive or someone from history and a scientist, politician, sportsman, artist, writer, explorer, even someone you know...it doesn't matter! You need to: - Find/draw a picture of them - Write about their qualities and skills that make you admire them and inspired by them (If you need some ideas, consider: Martin Luther King, Barack Obama, Winston Churchill, Neil Armstrong or even Marcus Rashford!)	Do you remember the last School Sports Day you took part in? We are asking you to write a poem to celebrate your memories. - What do you enjoy most about sports day? - What are the important values that sports day teaches us? Your poem can be in any style, any length and doesn't always have to rhyme! Read some examples in the worksheet attached. I would like you to share your sports day poems by emailing them to the school office (you have up until 8th July 2020 and there may be prizes!) Good luck!
Quiz Master	What if?	In the World...
Times tables quiz! We should all be brilliant at these now. Try any of these quizzes to challenge yourself! https://www.educationquizzes.com/ks2/times-tables/	What if babies ruled the world? What laws and rules would they put in place? (Think about 'Boss Baby'!) Would you like it? What would it mean for the grown ups in your life?	This week have a look at the lessons (some of which you've seen in class) about how to stay safe online. There's films and activities for you: thinkuknow.co.uk/8_10/watch/ And this is a link if your grown up wants to help you too! (This is also in the pack) https://www.thinkuknow.co.uk/globalassets/thinkuknow/documents/thinkuknow/parents/pdf/thinkuknow-8-10s-home-activity-sheet-1.pdf

Whales have been swimming in the oceans for millions of years. They are large, gentle mammals. Whales are warm-blooded and have no fur. They have a thick layer of fatty blubber to keep them warm.

Toothed whales have teeth. Baleen whales have no teeth. Humpback whales and blue whales have no teeth. They sieve tiny sea creatures called krill into their mouths. Killer whales have teeth. They will eat almost anything in the sea.

Whales swim by moving their tails up and down. They must swim to the surface of the water to breathe air.

Whales make lots of different sounds. They squeal, groan, yip, and wail. These sounds travel through the water and can be heard from a long way away.

A baby whale is called a calf. They are born with very little blubber so females usually give birth in warm seas.

1. How long have whales been swimming in the oceans?

2. Are whales warm-blooded or cold-blooded?

3. Whales have a thick layer of fat. What is it called?

4. Blue whales feed on tiny creatures called:

a prawns

c seaweed

b krill

d ants

5. How do whales swim?

6. Why do whales swim to the surface of the water?

7. Write down three different sounds that whales can make.

8. What is a baby whale called?

The sound collectors came to visit

Our school sports day,
They took all our favourite sounds away.

The laughing of the children,
The thudding of the Dad's Race,

The plop of the welly,

The thud of a child falling.

The shouting of the children,

The cheering of the parents,

The ringing of the bells,

The tweeting of the singing of the birds.

The sound collectors came today,

Now they've taken all the sounds
away,

Now the field is quiet.

Supporting your team

Participating in all sports

Organising down to the last second

Running, leaping, jumping, hopping

Time running short

Sunny weather

Daring to push our limits

Always supporting, never criticising

Yielding the victory cup!

Fasten your laces,
Toes behind the line,
The sun is shining,
It's Sports Day time!

It's time to have races,
It's time to have fun,
On your marks, get set...

Jump!
Skip!
Run!

It's time for a cold drink,
It's time for a rest.
Well done everyone,
You've all done your best!

A sunny day, a clear blue sky
The pupils came out,
Their heads held high!
Four different colours,
Excitement to come,
All supported
By their dads and mums!
Pupils are strong, determined and fast
Here comes the parents' race,
Hope mine isn't last!
But who are the winners
Red, blue, yellow or green?
Hurrah it's a victory
For Callendar's team!
